MOD SUN teamed up with global superstar Avril Lavigne for the Top 20 hit "Flames." The single is part of MOD's full-length album Internet Killed The Rockstar. "Flames" is a powerful, punk rock-infused anthem that features emotional, haunting vocals from the pair. It is Lavigne's first release since her 2019 album Head Above Water, which debuted at number 13 on the Billboard Top 200.

"Avril Lavigne has one of my favorite voices in music," says MOD SUN. "It's so strong and confident, yet filled with emotion and one-of-a-kind inflections that only her voice can do. This song holds a lot more weight than meets the eye."

"There's a very deep message within it," says Avril Lavigne. "MOD and I had an immediate connection from the first day in the studio. He's an incredible artist and producer. This is the first of many. Proud of what we made with Flames."

MOD SUN co-wrote and directed the hit viral film DOWNFALLS HIGH with frequent collaborator Machine Gun Kelly, which features Travis Barker, Chase Hudson, Sydney Sweeney and an all-star ensemble cast. Released January 15 to global acclaim, DOWNFALLS HIGH received more than 16 million views opening weekend. The two also co-wrote the platinum-selling single "Bloody Valentine", which was named the #1 Rock Song of 2020 by Billboard, Certified Gold in Canada, and won "Best Alternative" at the 2020 MTV VMAs.

"Flames" joins previously released singles "Bones" and "Karma," which entered Spotify's US and Global Viral Charts. The new album Internet Killed The Rockstar released on February 12th and continues to garner attention both in streaming and press. The album, produced by John Feldmann (5 Seconds of Summer, The Used, Panic At The Disco), ushered in a new era of MOD's career.

"MOD SUN is one of one," says John Feldmann. "He is an incredible lyricist and amazing singer and his enthusiasm and positivity are infectious. I had the best time making this album with him."

Mod Sun's recent single titled "Heavy" features another frequent collaborator, platinum-selling artist blackbear. The track is a perfect pop hit with underlying punk influences that features an explosive electronic chorus.
